

Meet Our Team

After playing roller derby for over 10 years, Cristi understands that putting together an order for a sports team can be a lot like herding cats. That's why she's made it her mission to simplify the process so your team can look great, feel great and get their gear hassle free.

After nearly 20 years in the broadcast industry, Cristi is bringing a new set of eyes to help you market your business. She can find promotional items that won't be ignored, will speak to the demographics you're looking to hit and will make a lasting impact long after they are in the hands of your customers. All at an affordable price that won't punch you in the gut.

If you need gear for your business, team, group or simply for yourself, don't hesitate to reach out to cristi@familyenterpriseinc.com
