

Meet Our Team

Want to win Scotty over? Ask him to show you a picture of his dogs. Scotty Johnson is (literally) the newest member of our family, class clown of the shop and one of the partners here at Family Enterprise.

Scotty is our resident band merchandise expert, coming from a background primarily in music. After playing in various Classic Rock and Heavy Metal bands, as well as keeping the management chair warm at Guitar Center locations in Cleveland, Buffalo, Reno and Sacramento – he knows the last thing you want to worry about is the cost and quality of your band’s merch. Let him do the heavy lifting so you can concentrate on what matters most...putting on a great show.

Not in a band? No worries! Scotty’s got you covered whether you’re looking for uniforms, shirts for a special occasion, banners, trophies or if you just want to put together a personalized gift for someone you care about. Give him a shout at scotty@familyenterpriseinc.com
